Z2i: Who did this dress?

AK: Talbot Runhoff

Z2i: Can you spell that?

AK: T-a-l-b-o-t R-u-n-h-o double f.

Z2i: Wow, that's good. This is gorgeous. How did you select this?

AK: Um, yeah-- I wanted to do something a little bit out of my comfort zone. It's a lot shinier than last year's dress. But I feel like a rock star, so--

Z2i: Now in preparation for the awards season, you know there's a lot of fashion pressure. And you are sort of being buzzed about as one of the newcomers, and one of the ones to watch. Have you-- has your agent or manager said, "Maybe you should start looking at gowns" or something?

AK: I know, I've been told to do research and read more fashion magazines and stuff, but thank god I have somebody kind of helping me out, because I'm certainly not enough of a girly-girl to just know exactly what I want, so--

Z2i: I think it would be very daunting.

AK: Yeah, it's a little intimidating, but, you know, I feel nice right now, so I'm happy that somebody helped me out.

Z2i: Well, you look gorgeous. And you are so funny in Twilight in New Moon.

AK: Thank you so much. Yeah, I try. I mean, you know, Chris kind of just let me like go for it and try a couple things, and I hope it came out all right.

Z2i: It feels very natural and very sweet. Now, um, how do you feel about this movie and the reaction to it, compared to last-- the Twilight-- the first one.

AK: I mean, by the time that I was here last year, I just thought like I'd seen everything. And it's crazy, to be here and for there to be even more fans, and even more noise. Like, just when you think you've seen everything, it gets bigger and bigger.

Z2i: That's exciting. Well have fun tonight. Thanks so much and best of luck.
